

TANGLED THISTLE / RF07

The Daisy Department of Unreasonable Optimism

A generous public supper in a fictional flower department. The institution takes its job very seriously. Its job is to make an ordinary day less ordinary.

A civic garden, after hours

Forest fluting, oxblood and burnt-orange Gerbera, copper, dark foliage and disciplined ivory link the institution to the table. The main World moodboard is concept imagery. Use the Atlas for real planting counts, relative placement, venue-supported materials and the static-open alternative; this image is not a fabrication drawing.

One route with choices

Receive guests at Applications, let the Bureau open into Parliament and move to supper when it is ready. Supper faces the held garden; after the motion, the existing garden becomes a destination by the side route. Guests can remain seated and receive the same dessert.

The working side

Keep the bank’s plant care and rostrum operators behind the scene, with clean delivery and screened dirty return. Guests do not pass through the rostrum. Keep a visible practical return to coats and plain exit directions.
